LEADERSHIP

Many principals have come and gone, and there will doubtless be many more in the future; but the class of 1934 will always remember with pride the courage, high ideals, and many sterling qualities which have inspired us to achieve and lead us on to the better things of life.

FOREWORD

In building this, the 1934 edition of "The Wildcat" we have departed somewhat from the accepted rules and customs. We have tried to avoid sameness and age-old tradition. We have attempted to produce something unique in high school annuals.

In only one sense have we felt bound to accepted rule and tradition, and that has been in building into the book the things that will make you want to pick it up now and again in later years; and to have it act upon you as a rejuvenating tonic. We want you to see things, and to remember people, places, and incidents; and we want you to swallow futilely to get that lump out of your throat.

Today's newspaper dies with today; this year's annual should live with the years, and it is your future appreciation of this book rather than your immediate acceptance of it, that has been our aim.

Class History

What is the purpose of this volume if not to bring to memory in future years the names and faces and events that were part of our lives, that part of our lives which composed a short but momentous interlude of four years between Nineteen Hundred and Thirty and Nineteen Hundred Thirty-four?

So many things happened then which had never happened to us before and can never happen again—the joys and sorrows in our struggle to gain knowledge of our world and its affairs.

The "Class of '34" began its career at N. H. H. S., under an extremely disadvantageous situation. During the first few months of the Freshman Year the school was operated in "shifts"—A and B; one from 9:00 to 12:00, the other from 12:30 to 3:30. For this reason, that abstract generalization called "School Spirit" was at an exceptionally low ebb. About the middle of the year, however, there was a rift in the clouds! 21 new rooms were added to the building and we were able to assume our school duties and pleasures in the normal way, unhampered by crowded conditions.

After a break of three months we began anew our toils. We began to find ourselves, and, being "Sophs", quite the most important creatures for miles around. Forgetting that we were only removed by one year from the Status of Freshmen, we even ventured to make certain remarks about the increasing diminution in size, etc., of the incoming classes! Forgive us, let our sins be buried forever. The only real feature of activity this year was the revival of interest in athletics.

Perhaps even greater than before was our feeling of elevation when we reached the rank of Juniors! It seemed literally years since we had been at the bottom of the scale. Increased interest, increased activity, and, most important of all, a restoration of "School Spirit" in all its glory, marked this remarkable year. The season reached its height, for the Juniors, with the presentation of the Junior Play which was marked by great success and the entertainment of the Seniors at the annual fete.

It took us fully three months of deep contemplation and meditation to prepare ourselves adequately for the coming year. What is that mixed feeling of joy and sorrow occasioned by reaching the top; that meant the end of our journey? Having reached the beginning of the top stage of this particular journey, ours was a feeling of anticipation; somewhat apprehensive, perhaps, about the difficulties to be encountered, but impatiently awaiting the achievements and the pleasures that were our lot.

Attempting to assume Senior dignities and privileges unconcernedly, as a matter of course, we failed dismally. Although we made a great deal of progress along this line during the year, it is doubtful whether we ever, to the last day, succeeded in banishing entirely our naivete when mounting our Senior Steps and marching out of chapel while the under-classmen remained seated.

On the whole, however, we assumed our duties with a great deal of zest and activity, and it was during this year, '33-'34 that "School Spirit" reached the highest point during our entire career here. During the first half we were interested in scholastic achievements and football games more than anything else. The school paper took on new colors, under the name of "The Wildcat," and put under the guidance of an able staff. Many are the Seniors whose sentiments, to this day, are not unmixed toward that esteemed organ of public expression.

The election of the annual staff was held the middle of February. The class is to be congratulated upon its choice of so able a group to put forth its annual year book. The work was gotten under immediately. There was a mad scrambling in getting the photographs taken and getting measurements for the caps and gowns. Then we had a most enjoyable time when time came for the group pictures, some of us were lucky enough to get out of our home-room period.

Then came that always exciting event—the election of Senior Superlatives—preceeded by two weeks of speculation and followed by three of discussion. Those who were fortunate in placing here strutted haughtily about and tried not to look too proud, but some of them had to have measurements made over for their caps and gowns.

On March 7, a Senior-Freshman chapel program was held by the National Honor Society, membership in which is the highest honor which can be accorded by a high-school to one of its students. By means of a simple, though impressive, induction ceremony, twenty-five members were initiated into the society.

Following close at hand was the beginning of practice for the Senior Play. After several weeks of hard work and no play it was given on Friday, April the thirteenth, and believe you me, it could have been lots more successful. It was a real hard task to put so difficult a play on, but the members did it in a superb manner. The play was Oliver Goldsmith's, "She Stoops to Conquer."

During April we had two important events, following in close succession, namely, the Hi-Y Minstrel, which drew one of the largest crowds in its history; then came the "High School Follies"; it also proved to be entertaining and financially successful.

The biggest event of the year was the dance given on May 11, at the Hotel Cape Fear. This dance was well attended and all who were fortunate enough to attend saw some of the best added attractions that have ever been staged in Wilmington. Prizes and souvenirs were awarded the patrons. The Annual Staff had charge of this, and we can say that it was a huge success.

Finally, after four years of varied experience, we had reached that momentous event which culminated our career at the dear old Alma Mater. Words fail us in our attempt to describe adequately the innumerable emotions that surged within us. Our minds were occupied not only by retrospection, but by conjecture as to the future as well. We came to the full realization that we had reached a definite turning point in our lives.

Now that my work is completed, I leave this history with you which I hope will live forever in your memories.

MARSHALL E. SUTHER.

ADDENDA SLIP:

Marshall Suther is not the author of the "Class History" appearing in this Annual over his name.—Editor.

Class Poem

Alma Mater, Fare-thee-Well

O, School of schools, the time is near,
  We're loathe to part at last;
We've memories dear of each school year
  That bind us to thee fast.

Our blessings have been manifold.
  Ah, yes, we have been blessed;
For thou hast taught us how to live,
  Hast given us thy best.

Ne'er may your wise and hoary head
  In silent grief be bent,
Because of our unworthy deeds
  Your noble heart be rent.

But may our years of truth and right
  To thee bring honor due;
Through perseverence we shall win
  As thou has taught us to.

Thou hast helped us reach the first milepost
  On this highway of life,
And may we keep it through the years
  As clean from sin and strife.

So, Alma Mater, Fare-thee-well!
  Our echoes linger on
In those wide halls where joy was spent
  In study, youth, and song.

MILDRED GREY DEMPSEY,
Class Poet.

RECORD CROWDS ATTEND BEACHES

Yesterday witnessed one of the largest crowds that have ever attended Wrightsville and Carolina Beaches. It was by far the greatest fourth that we have seen in a great number of years. There were so many pleasure seekers and bathers that one couldn't tell whether he was coming or going (Quite natural, Eh What?).

The excitement began in the morning when a crowd of nudists, led by Frank Abbott and Julia Cox, began a bathing beauty parade. The crowd included Elizabeth Craig, Woodrow Fountain, Elsie Delmar, Ted Kalnen, John McInnis, Alice Livesay, Leon Lee, Tom Meyland, Ione Pinner and Annie Heuring. It was not long before the crowd was dispersed by the police of Wrightsville led by James (Jailbird) Kerr and Maurice Proctor.

Another huge crowd had gathered around the Campbell Cottage, owned and operated by Frances Campbell, where a number of Sea-Horses were sighted a few yards off shore. But the situation was soon quieted when Charlton ("Cowboy") Storey swam out and lassoed all of the Sea-Horses with one loop.

A small disturbance was caused near the (Peggy) Frownfelter Inn, when Seymour Moskowitz and Joe Chesnutt were arguing over who was to pay the tax on a nickel drink.

Throngs attended the dance at the (Sue) Calder Casino, where music and dancing were enjoyed by all. The music was furnished by Johnson Harriss and his Sixteen Sizzling Synco-

CROOKS ROB LOCAL BANK

Sometime between 12:01 and 12:03 P. M. yesterday bandits entered the Brinkley-Freshwater Bank (Willie Sue and Ed's of course!) located at the N. W. corner of Water and Nutt Sts., and made off with millions in I. O. U.'s.

Evidence clearly indicated that the work was done by professional crooks because they forgot to ring the burglar alarm when they entered.

Harry Stovall, watchman, said that he heard no peculiar noises while he slept, but later he stated that several men annoyed him by stumbling over his feet.

The gang that robbed the bank is supposed to have been Eleanor Sugg and her notorious band of crooks including William Bellamy, Glover Bonner, Ruth Jewell, Billy Houston, and Billy Harris.

Vice-President Aaron May stated to the gentlemen (Hoboes) of the press that the Bank would reopen for business Monday morning.

Independence Day Parade Witnessed By Thousands

Throngs of local citizens turned out yesterday to witness the largest and most spectacular parade ever given in the city of Wilmington.

The parade was led by Perry (Cimon) Harper, who is our new secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. Behind him came the retiring mayor, George Burnette, followed by a large brass band directed by Marvin Pye.

Young Democrats To Govern City

Something extraordinary happened in yesterday's municipal election. Led by Mayor-elect Carl D. (Baggy) Peiffer, the new order of young democrats swept every precinct.

William (Railroad) Henderson ran incumbent Hervey Fisher a close race for the new Commissioner of Finances. (Well, what difference does it make—We haven't any money anyway).

The office of Recorder was won with great ease by James (Niggernose) Lawther, who nosed out his nearest opponent by a few votes.

The new Commissioner of Public Works will be Sidney Gaylord (Dependable? I'll say). Mr. Gaylord will be remembered for his fine work in N. H. H. S.

Sidney (Big Feet) Wilson easily stomped out all other rivals for the position of Chief of Police. Ed Craft received the office of Fire Chief. (There'll be a hot time in the old town tonight). Chief Craft's new assistants will be Sidney Rogers and Kenneth Brown.

During the heated campaign the new office seekers were vigorously attacked by the Editor of "The Corn Cob," James Arthur Brown, Esq.

Sam Bear and Wallace Barber entered into so many arguments that they decided to withdraw so that their friendship would not cease.

Hon. Wallace Sellers, prominent professor at U. N. C. (also head of the Brain Trust), made a statement to newspaper men that Wilmington is to be congratulated on its splendid selection of leaders.

Pryor Batte says he is through with politics and decided to join the army, where you don't have to fight.

Graham Hunter and John Wagner were severely injured when they tried to photograph a group of party workers composed of Tom Ames, Russell Dellinger, Mildred Dempsey, Louise Jones, Jeneil Griffith, Leon Andrews, Leo Baker and Agnes Dawson.

A committee was immediately appointed by the new Mayor to submit suggestions before the board at its first official meeting on various public works programs now being carried out. The committee is composed of Joe Brown, John Parker, Jenny Kure, Johanna Braak, Ellen Best, Mary Murphy and Florence Neil.

Needless to say, Wilmington now has able and efficient leaders to lead them forward.

Featured in the parade were beautifully decorated floats. Immediately following these floats were the local military units led by Henry Lee and Porter Hufham.

Then came the Lion's Club led by Daniel Page, the Royal Order of Elks with Clinton Lockamy in the lead, and finally the Girl Scouts with Mertys Ballard showing the way.

Some wonderful pictures of the parade were taken from the air by Leon Walsh and Mary Upchurch.

pators. Miss Vivian McCoy pleased the dancers by singing all the popular tunes of the day (Such as "Got That 'ol Fashion Love in My Heart"). The dancing contest was won by Bruce Cameron and Velna Williamson. A close second was given them by Andrew Buck and Betty Finch.

SOCIETY

PERSONALS

Friends of Mr. Lynn Frownfelter and Miss Helen Davis will be glad to learn that they have just returned from a tour from South America, where they were married in June.

Miss Leila Williams and Miss Betty Hunt have just returned from the May Hop given in Chapel Hill last month. (Where they have been since then, we do not know).

Mr. Henry Bartley Lee and Miss Hazel Wilson have just returned from a brief visit of several friends in Southport.

Mr. Lyman Kinlaw has just returned home from Raleigh, where he has been visiting several inmates of the State's Asylum.

The many friends of Mr. S. D. Strickland and Miss Mary Sibley will be interested to know that they were awarded first place in a dance contest held at the Red Lantern Dance Hall (Formerly known as the Bucket of Blood).

Friends of Margaret Davis will be pleased to learn that she is recuperating from a slight throat operation, and she will be unable to talk for several months.

Many will be astonished to learn that Robert H. Bowden has been appointed head Professor of Mathematics at Mars Hill University.

Nellie Boet has just returned from a trip to Europe, where she has completed a study of the English Language.

Mr. George Ayash has returned to New York, where he will join Claude McGowan and his "Soup Boys" orchestra. He will then leave shortly with Florence Moore to co-star in the moving pictures.

F. F. F. Club Entertains With Delightful Party

The local chapter of the F. F. F. Club (You guess the name), known in other parts of the country as the G. A. B. Club (Gossip About Boys), entertained on Wrightsville Beach with a lovely house party.

It seems as tho these heah gals deemst it necessary to goist on one more shindig before the old rocking chair would get them.

These beautiful (Ah! Most beautiful, indeed) fair damsels seeing that their "boy friends" were financially embarrassed (If you'll pardon my expression —Flat broke), decided to venture upon that gala event, so well known as a house party, by their most honorable selves.

After spending some time on the beach (and finding no cute looking boys) these heah gorgeous dames talked themselves into returning home. (Some trip, eh?).

The most honorable damsels that took this heah daring trip, could have been and were: Leila Williams, Carol Slocum, Mary Harris, Betty Hunt, Betty Finch, Jean McKoy, Alice Moore, Margaret O'Brian and Anita Watson. (I beg thy most honorable pardon if I have by chance omitted any of thy most intelligent club members).

It is rumored that the "Big Four" and the "F. F. F." Clubs are considering a merger. (What a club this would make!)

Mr. Anderson Entertains With Afternoon Tea

Mr. Billy Anderson (The Society Hound) entertained numerous of his friends with a delightful tea yesterday afternoon. Those attending were: Oscar Farr, Gladys Dawson, Dorothy Dixon, Graham Alderman, Frances Owens, Bruce McCrary, and William Moore.

Slips That Pass During The Day

Edward Hines: "Would you accept a pet monkey?"

Iris Kelly: "Oh! This is so sudden. I would have to ask father."

...oOo...

Evelyn Irving: "I know where I can get a good chicken dinner for five cents."

Eleanor Morrill: "Where?"

Evelyn: "At the feed store."

...oOo...

Dorothy Reynolds: "Miss Applewhite must be getting pretty old."

Mary Sellers: "Why?"

Dorothy: "She's taught Shakespeare for ten years."

...oOo...

Porter Hufham: "When is the state Oratorical Contest to be held?"

Margaret Banck: "On the third Friday in May."

Porter: "But suppose it comes on Sunday?"

...oOo...

Jimmy Taylor: "What do you sing?"

Helen Scott: "I sing second bass."

Jimmy: "Why don't you try centerfield or shortstop?"

...oOo...

Ray Bridgers: "Did you take a bath yesterday?"

Helen Brickhouse: "No. Is one missing?"

...oOo...

Beryl Jewell: "My feet burn like the dickens. Do you think a mustard bath would help?"

Nellie Gaylor: "Sure, there's nothing like mustard for hot dogs."

...oOo...

Ted Hoggard applied for a job as delivery boy at Bessie Hunt Dress Shop. Bessie wanted a serious worker, so she put Ted to a test.

"Well, Ted, what would you do with a million dollars?" she asked.

"I don't know—I wasn't expecting so much at the start," said Ted.

POEM

I think that there can be no more,
A class as good as '34
A class whose aims and ideals high,
Meant "Do your very best or die."
A class, who in a loving game,
Could boast the winning class to fame.
Our class is made of fools like me,
But its fame shall live eternally.
(Apologies to Joyce Kilmer)

Emily Branch: "Has anyone seen Lewis Darden?"

Jenny Kure: "He's wrestling with his conscience."

Emily: "Yeah, a feather weight match."

...oOo...

Billy Bessellieu: "Is he a real member of the K. K. K.?"

Carrie Brooks: "Yea, Kourt 'em, Kiss 'em, and Kick 'em."

...oOo...

Myrtle Mae Bryan: "Is this milk pasteurized?"

Eva Mae Bullard: "Sure, we get it from the preacher's cow."

...oOo...

Ruth Burton (At her first football game): "Oh, isn't it awful? Why, they will kill that poor boy underneath."

Kenneth Welsh: "Don't be silly. He doesn't mind it; he's unconscious by this time."

...oOo...

Mildred Cain: "These dresses simply laugh at the laundry."

Mary Sutton: "I know. I've had some come back with their sides split."

America Again Captures The Olympic Games

Led by "Goat" Shepard the American entries did it again over in California this year. Many old records fell, and much excitement was caused in the various events.

Shepard easily won all the events he entered; he is considered America's most valuable athlete this year. J. S. received his track experience at New Hanover High School a number of years back.

Other American winners were: Billy Cumber, the great pole vault artist; Austin McDonald, the world's fastest swimmer; Alleine Brooke, holder of several records for fancy diving; James Davis, world's champion featherweight boxer, and Jack Daniels, the greatest shot thrower of all times.

Xanthos Defeats Martin For Heavyweight Crown

Johnny Xanthos, "The Kid from Dry Pond," defeated Rudolph Martin (Who is from Possum Hollow) last night in a gruesome mat fight staged at Thalian Hall for the benefit of Wilmington's crippled children.

Asa Earl Mathis refereed the fight in splendid form.

These fights are staged each week by the promoters, Jimmy Ruark and Merle Russ.

James Captures Southern Pines Tournament

William Clark James captured the Southern Golf Tournament in professional style yesterday by beating his nearest rival, Granville Smith, by a few strokes. Claude Spooner ran a close third, losing out on the last hole.

Other golfers attending the meet were such famous players as: Dorothy Skipper, Madge Smith, Lillian Rankin, Lucy Boylan, Elva Lee Brown, Louise Jones, Katherine Hollis, Helen Hartis and Sadie Harrison.

Famous Band To Play In The City Soon

Rodney Breece and his famous band will open a two weeks engagement at the Green Tavern, owned and operated by Miss Mary Green of this city.

In this well known orchestra we will meet such great musicians as John Taylor, the famous bagpipe blower (and is he tight with his air); Jesse Willard, the flute blower; John Tinga, the tubor player; and Pete Pool, the piccolo player.

Miss Toula Saffo will delight the crowd with her sizzling blues songs. Miss Margaret Underwood and Henry Von Oeson will be featured in several special dance arrangements. Andrew Murray, Miriam Gaylord, and Sue Calder will give a special arrangement of that well known piece, "How'm I doin' ".

A gala time is expected by all those attending.

The numerous friends of Betty Palmer and Marie Hewett will be interested to know that they have just completed a course in Europe of interior decorating.

Alma Brothers: Do you guarantee results in your nerve treatment?

Dr. Charles Colwell: I do. Why a man came to me for a nerve treatment and when I had finished with him he tried to borrow $500.

A big car pulled up to the curb. The little girl's heart missed a beat. "Going north, Babe?"

Girl: "Why, yes."

"Well, give my regards to the Eskimoes"—and the big car continued up Market St.

Charles Reisz: "Give me a sentence using the word writhe."

Jean McKoy: "I writhe every morning at theven-thirty."

John Taylor was missing for three days before police finally located him in a "pay as you leave" bus.

PICTORIAL EVENTS OF THE DAY

Mr. Fred Farrar, who has just returned from England where he participated in the international polo championships.

Miss Mary Harris who is engaged to be married in June to Mr. Kenneth Welsh, former quarterback for Mars Hill University.

Perry C. Harper, promising new secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Harper led yesterday's Independence Day parade.

Miss Margaret O'Brian, beautiful opera singer whose bird like voice thrills the nation every night over a nation wide hook-up.

Carl Peiffer is known to be the power behind the political party that stormed the poles yesterday for an overwhelming victory.

James Arthur Brown is editor of the "Corn Cob". Editor Brown has fought unsuccessfully more campaigns than any other living journalist.

Alice B. Moore, well known to all as the proprietor of a model dairy farm. "Contentment is the secret of my cows success," she has been heard to say.

Rodney Breece, the famous band leader, will appear in Wilmington in the near future. Breece is dear to the hearts of the local "weaker sex."

Last Will and Testament

On this nineteenth day of May, nineteen hundred and thirty-four, we, the Senior Class of New Hanover High School, in the city of Wilmington and the state of North Carolina, being in sound mind and body, do solemnly testify to the following articles which we sincerely and sadly bequeath to those whom we so respecfully leave behind us:

We, the Senior Class, leave to the Junior Class all our Senior privileges, which include the use of the front steps and the occupancy of the middle section during chapel exercises.

We, the Senior Class, leave to the Sophomore Class our reputation as being the most intelligent class in the history of the school.

We, the Senior Class, leave to the Freshman Class our unending knowledge of everything on every occasion and our ability to do everything better than anyone else.

We, the Senior Class, leave to the green incoming class of next year all that we possess, our traits, our leadership, our knowledge, and our powers, believing that before they leave school they will find great use of them.

I, Carl Peiffer, leave my political powers and abilities to Wythe Quarles, knowing that he will make great use of them.

I, Wallace Barber, leave my big feet to next year's football team, knowing that they will need a firm foundation.

I, Mary Harris, leave my numerous high school and college "boy friends" to those Junior girls that never get a man, believing that there will be at least one boy for each of them.

I, William Henderson (not knowing which of my outstanding characteristics to part with), decide to keep all I have.

I, Harry Stovall, leave my energetic ways to Roger Weightman.

We, Fred Farrar and Marshall Suther, leave our ability to attend classes and school on time to next year's Senior Class, realizing that they will make great use of it.

We, Frank Abbott and Julia Cox, leave our bold and nervy ways to the incoming class of next year, knowing that they will use them to a great advantage.

I, Hervey Fisher, leave my "ways with the women" to Emmett Durham.

We, Lynn Frownfelter and Helen Davis, leave our eternal love to Billy Campbell and Ann Boatwright.

I, Margaret Davis, leave my quiet ways to Clarice Bailey.

I, Eleanor Suggs, leave my "girlish ways" to Janet Bear.

I, Mary Green, do bestow my witty remarks and good nature to the editor of next year's annual, knowing that he will be in great need of both.

I, Perry Harper, leave my managing abilities to Billy Broadfoot, knowing that he will make great use of them in the coming years.

I, John Tinga, leave my quiet and peaceful ways to David Struthers.

I, George Ayash, leave my ability as a crooner to Allen Brinson.

I, Rodney Breece, leave my original ways to Porter Lee Hufham, knowing that he will make great use of them.

We, Wallace Sellers and Pryor Batte, leave our studious ways to Joe Yates, greatly realizing that he will need all that we have.

I, Bruce Cameron, leave my great intellectual and studious abilities to Elizabeth Fussell.

I, Sidney Gaylord, leave my dependable abilities to Charles Davis, knowing that he will use them to a great advantage.

I, Mike Walker, leave my cute sayings to Mina Bluethenthal.

I, Ted Hoggard, leave my energetic and "Speedy" ways to Harry Bethea.

I, J. S. Shepard, leave my ability as a track star to the entire track squad of next year, knowing that they will be greatly in need of it.

I, Sam Bear, leave my heart and hand to Miss Betty Sibley.

I, Jimmy Brown, leave my headaches derived from the School Paper to Billy Campbell, hoping he will be able to procure sufficient aspirin for relief.

We, the Senior Class, leave to dear old N. H. H. S. our promise to spread her fame wherever we go, and to carry the high ideals of this school imprinted upon our hearts and souls forever.

Signed on this nineteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four, A. D., at New Hanover High School, Wilmington, North Carolina.

During the year 1933-1934 the Hi-Y Club experienced one of the most successful seasons since the club has been organized. It has been the largest club that the Hi-Y has had in its entire history.

The regular Bible talks made each week by Rev. P. Cary Adams were very beneficial and helpful to the members of the club.

The annual Hi-Y Minstrel was very successful this year as in previous years; the proceeds going to the World Brotherhood. The end men positions were capably held by Kenneth Welsh, Walter Coleman, Carl Peiffer, Rodney Breece, Johnson Harriss, and Wallace Barber. The interlocutors were Wythe Quarles and John Parker.

The club sent six delegates to the annual North and South Carolina Hi-Y Convention. These delegates were John Parker, James Taylor, Rodney Breece, David Sprunt, Charles Davis, and Mr. James H. Stebbins. The convention was held in Salisbury.

The Older Boys Conference held in Washington was attended by Carl Peiffer and Wythe Quarles.

"WILDCATS"

(Tune, Washington and Lee Swing)

Oh when those Wilmington Wildcats fall in line;
They're going to win that game another time.
They're going to fight, fight, fight for every yard,
They're going to circle those ends and hit
that line right hard,
They'er going to tread old——on the sod,
They're going to catch that old team off its guard.
So every man must fight and do its best, to hit
Them hard for N. H. H. S. !!!!!

"OH YE N. H. S."

Oh ye N. H. S., don't you forget
We have the spirit
We'll surprise them——yes just wait and watch us do it.
Oh ye Black and Orange, never give in Fight to the finish, boys, we're out to win.

Do-re-me
Who are we?
We are, we are, we are we
'Tain't no lie,
'Tain't no bluff
Wilmington High School is red hot stuff!!!!

Rattle 'round the dishpan
Shinny up the tree
————High, tee, hee, hee.

We are the sons of N. H. S.
We're not allowed to cuss
We don't give a D——n
'Bout any D——n man
That don't give a D——n about us.
E. Pluribus Unum,
We certainly are,
A Men, A Women, A Team,
Fight 'em Wildcats, Fight 'em.

Foot Ball

Although the 1934 football season at N. H. H. S. couldn't be called an overwhelming success from the standpoint of games won and lost, we can say that the "Wildcat Spirit" which prevailed in 1928 and 1929, was to a certain extent brought back by the team of " '34."

There were many candidates who didn't have the "stick-to-it" trait of character and stopped coming out before the season really began. On the other hand, there were those who came out every day in order that we might have a team of which we could be proud. The hard fighting and clean sportsmanship displayed by the boys who succeeded in making the team will forever be an inspiration to admirers of fair play and football lovers of New Hanover High School.

Coach Robert Black had the difficult task of replacing six men lost through graduation the year before. Cunningham, Davis, Peiffer, Taylor, and High were the veterans; around these experienced players was the task of making a real team. "Fighting" Bob, by his untiring efforts and determination, assembled a team which it can truthfully be said "They didn't give up until the final whistle had blown."

Another asset the team of '34 had was in their manager. Loveridge Dosher was always on the job and always had enough cars on hand to take the team out of town. He was always sure that every cent that could possibly be gotten on home games was gotten. The K. K. K. Klub gets a vote of thanks for their willingness and ability to sell tickets for our games.

Some of the more outstanding players were: Kenneth Welsh, some of his runs were almost for the entire length of the field. Gains through the line consistently goes to Lawrence Davis. Billy High is noted for his punting ability, (note, not a single one of his punts was blocked). Cunningham's and Coleman's way of getting their opponent before he could get started was their trait. Robinson, Peiffer, Barber, and Quarles had the old fighting spirit and stubborness which makes a good team. Bethea and Hoggard will be remembered for their snagging that old pig-skin while it was still in the air.

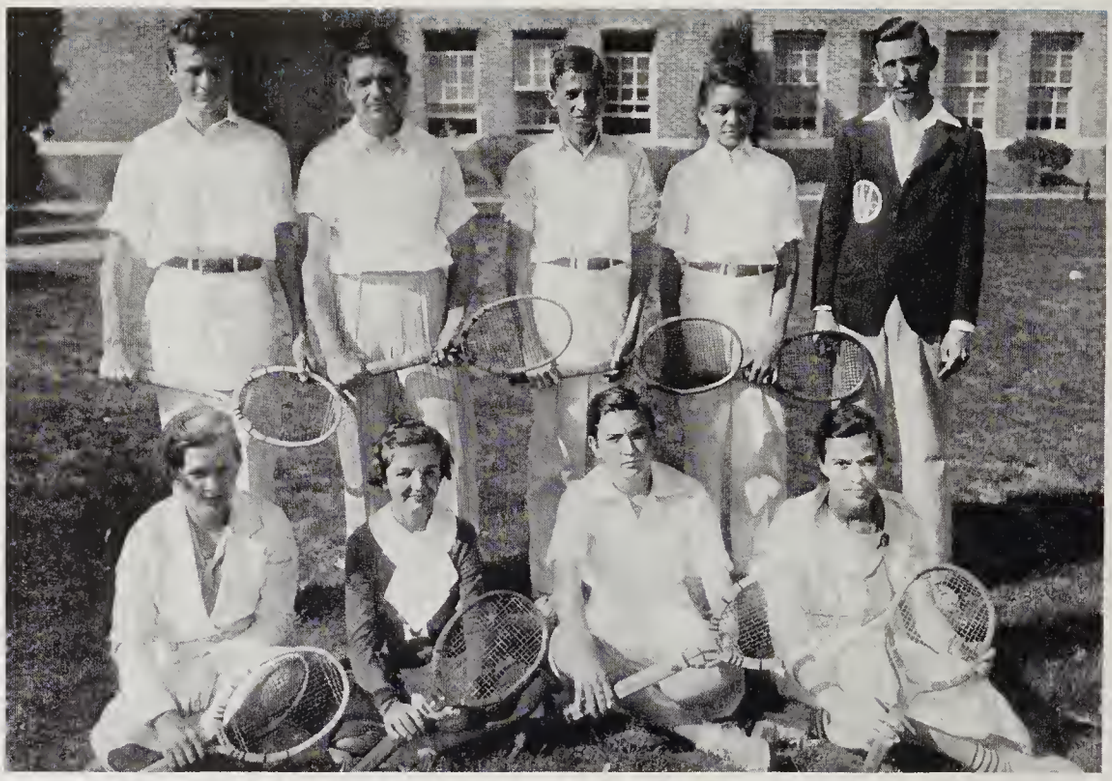
Boys' Basket Ball

Before launching the 1934 basketball season all talk centered around this particular sport. Everything seemed to appear that there would be enough material to build a winning team, but when the showdown came there was no material to be found except two who were left us by the unfortunate 1933 squad. These two sharp-shooters played only a few games before they discontinued their basketball ability. The year 1934 was by far the most disastrous that a New Hanover five has ever experienced.

Part of this disastrous season was due largely to the loss of the regular coach, Zack Williams, who resigned here to accept a position in another school. His reigns were taken over by Mr. Black who worked a little overtime trying to keep the team together. Coach Black's tireless efforts might not be in vain, for there is an abundance of material for next year's squad.

Whether we had a wonderful team or not, we can truthfully say that it was financially independent, coming out a little ahead at the end of the season.

At the moment of writing this we do not have the scores or the names of our opponents. Needless to say we are none too proud of their non-accomplishments.



Tennis Team

Starting out with all new material the tennis team of this year proved to be the best team yet produced by the local school. The team of last year was undefeated, but it did not have as heavy a schedule as the team this year. The only match lost so far this year was to the state championship freshman team of University of North Carolina, a team made up of former junior champions. The team has a few more encounters this year, but from their record thus far it is safe to say that they will finish the season without losing to any high school team. The girl's team has one more match scheduled with Flora MacDonald College and they hope to get others before the season ends.

Girls' Basket Ball '34

JEAN DIVINE, Coach MARY BETHEA, Manager

Suffering a loss of most of its former guard material, the girl's basketball team this year had to face the difficult problem of building an entirely new line of defense. This was done, but another set-back occurred when Mary Harris, former star of Atlanta High School and around whom the other guards pivoted, developed an infected foot and was unable to play after the third game of the season.

The speed of the local sextet, as well as their well timed passes, was commented upon by sport writers of several cities in which the team played. However, the size of the New Hanover girls was a constant handicap. Because guarding rules are so strict in girl's basketball, it is of great advantage to have taller material. In this respect the local team was considerably weak.

Attendance at the games was much better than it had been in the past, equalling and sometimes surpassing the number of spectators at the boy's performances.

Dot Wysong again held the position of high scorer, making a total of 72 points during the season, Lucas coming next with 45 points.

Due to unusual weather conditions, Coach Divine found it necessary to cancel two out of town games, thus reducing the schedule to 7 games.

APPRECIATION

The staff of "THE WILDCAT" takes this opportunity to express its deep appreciation to the following who helped make this publication possible: Mr. Fred E. Little whose advice and assistance was invaluable in the preparation of this book; to the members and directors of the Senior Play for their untiring efforts; to the Annual Prom; and to the local firms whose support was given through the medium of advertising; and last but not least, to the Faculty and Student Body for their hearty co-operation and moral support.

SERIOUSLY SPEAKING?

"Men used to have all the courage, but the women are showing more backbone now."

Mary H.—"What do boys talk about after a dance?"
Rodney B.—"The same thing girls do."
Mary H.—"Oh, for goodness sakes."

"You can't keep a good man down cried the monkey as he climbed up the tree."

"The girls who fall in love with movie stars are to us almost as hopeless as the cow that fell in love with the 'Bull Durham' tobacco advertisement."

Jimmy Brown—"Between you and me, what do you think of Hervey's girl?"
Bill H.—"Between you and me, not so good, but alone, oh, boy!"

Mike—"How was the date last night?"
Wythe—"She was a blond, and where there is light there is heat."

"She was just a tailor's daughter, but oh, what a fit she gave me."

Alice—"I haven't slept for days."
Betty—"Why, what's the matter?"
Alice—"I sleep at night."

Officer—"I'll give you a ticket, your tail light isn't lit."
Carol S.—"But, Officer, I don't know how to back the car anyway."

Miss Martin—"This exam will be conducted on the honor basis, you will please take seats three apart on alternate rows."

"All people are curious. This proves your curiosity. One good turn deserves another."

Cop (to high school senior)—"Hey, what are you doing in there?"
Scared senior—"Noth'in."
Cop—"O. K. son, you come hold the light for a while."

Mark Anthony—"I want to see Cleopatra."
Servant—"I'm sorry, but she's in bed with laryngitis."
Mark Antony—"Darn those Greeks."

"I can't get the young lady to take any exercise, complained the young doctor."
"You don't phrase your words correctly," said Dr. Smith. "Tell her to perambulate daily in the park, taking copious inhalations of ozone."

"When you have reached your senior year, you have senior better days."

Porter says he knows the nudist cheer. It goes, RAW! RAW! RAW!

Miss Lossen—"What is the Ancient Order of Bath?"
Ted Hoggard—"Me first and John second."

Harry Bethea—"Every time I kiss you it makes me a better man."
Frances Campbell—"Well, you don't have to get to Heaven in one night."

Mary Harris says—"If a girl spends a lot of money on lip-stick, some man will always be rubbing it in."

Henry Lee—"My love cannot be expressed in words."
Jean McKoy—"Tell me about it."

Johnson Harris—"Are you an economical girl?"
Leila Williams—"I'll say I am. I can make one kiss last longer than any other girl you know."

Boss—"You ask high wages not to have any experience."
High School Senior—"I know it, but the work is much harder when you don't know anything about it."

Rodney—"Do you like girls who talk or the other kind."
Baggy Peiffer—"What other kind?"

Appreciation
to
JOHN S. SHEPARD

For his untiring efforts to uphold the standards of the N. H. H. S. Track Squad. Not only has he won many places in various track meets, but he has won a greater place in our hearts.
